REPORT

AWARENESS PROGRAMME ON CHILD ABUSE CONDUCTED AT PTMAUP SCHOOL

The IQAC (Internal Quality Assurance Cell) of Al Jamia Arts and Science College organized a significant awareness programme on child abuse for primary students of PTMAUP School, Mulliakurssi. The event took place on January 4th, 2021, within the premises of the school, aiming to educate young minds about crucial aspects of child safety and protection.

The programme featured a compelling session led by Fathima Shiril, a dedicated psychology student from Al Jamia Arts and Science College. Fathima Shiril delivered an impactful class that engaged the students and sensitized them to the importance of recognizing and preventing child abuse. Her approach was both informative and sensitive, ensuring that the young audience understood the gravity of the topic while feeling empowered to speak up against any form of abuse.

The session covered various aspects of child abuse, including its different forms and how children can identify and seek help if they encounter such situations. Fathima Shiril used age-appropriate language and interactive methods to ensure that the information resonated with the primary school students effectively. Through discussions, activities, and examples, she encouraged active participation, ensuring that every child grasped the significance of the subject matter.

The initiative by Al Jamia Arts and Science College's IQAC reflects their commitment to community engagement and proactive social responsibility. By collaborating with PTMAUP School, Mulliakurssi, they not only addressed a critical issue affecting children but also fostered a sense of awareness and safety within the school community.

The Head Master of PTMAUP School expressed gratitude to Al Jamia Arts and Science College and the IQAC for organizing such an enlightening programme. The event concluded with a resolve to continue educating and safeguarding children against abuse, reinforcing the importance of such initiatives in nurturing a safe and supportive environment for young learners.
