REPORT

SHADOW FOR PUBLIC-PLANTING TREES IN ROADSIDE

Al Jamia Arts and Science College NSS volunteers undertook the "Shadow for Public Project," a commendable tree plantation initiative aimed at enhancing environmental sustainability within the local community. The project was inaugurated with great enthusiasm by Principal A.P. Riyas, who personally planted trees along the roadside, symbolizing the college's commitment to ecological conservation. Guided by NSS program officer V. Salih, along with coordinators K. Nishath and K. Musabir, the initiative aimed not only to beautify the surroundings but also to foster long-term environmental benefits. Volunteers actively participated in selecting appropriate planting sites, preparing the ground, and choosing native tree species suited to the local climate and soil conditions. Beyond the physical act of planting, the initiative served as a catalyst for community engagement and awareness. Volunteers conducted outreach activities to educate residents about the importance of trees in mitigating climate change and enhancing biodiversity. The project's success is evidenced by the substantial number of trees planted, which now contribute to improved air quality, shade provision, and aesthetic enhancement of the community. Moving forward, the college remains dedicated to nurturing the planted trees, ensuring their sustainable growth, and expanding the initiative to further enrich the local environment. This initiative exemplifies the college's proactive approach to environmental stewardship and underscores its role in fostering a culture of sustainability and community responsibility.
