CIRCULAR

Dear Students,

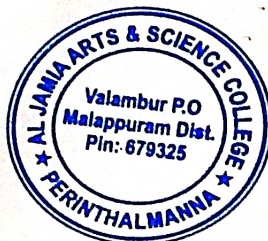

We are excited to announce an upcoming community service initiative on 02/10/2018 organized by the NSS Volunteers of Al Jamia Arts and Science College, Poopalam, in collaboration with Vettathoor Grama Panchayath. We will be painting the buildings at the Ayurvedha Dispensary as part of our commitment to beautifying public spaces and contributing positively to our community. We invite all interested students to actively participate in this endeavor. Your creativity and commitment will be instrumental in transforming the appearance of this public facility for the benefit of our community.

REPORT

PAINTED VETTATHOOR GRAMA PANCHAYATH AYURVEDA DISPENSARY

In a heartwarming display of community spirit and dedication, NSS volunteers from Poopalam Al Jamia Arts and Science College came together to revitalize the Vettathoor Grama Panchayath Ayurveda Dispensary through a vibrant painting initiative on 2nd October 2018. The initiative was inaugurated by Grama Panchayath President, Mrs. Annamma Valliyamthadathil, marking a significant moment of collaboration between the college and the local community.

The project, undertaken by enthusiastic college students, aimed not only to beautify the dispensary but also to underscore their commitment to contributing positively to society. Over several days, the volunteers meticulously painted the dispensary, symbolizing their deep-rooted interest and social responsibility.

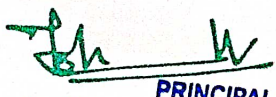

The dispensary, known for its efficiency in providing medications, medical supplies, and even medical and dental treatments, plays a crucial role in the local healthcare landscape. It serves as a lifeline for many patients who rely on its services. The successful completion of the painting project not only enhanced the aesthetic appeal of the dispensary but also underscored its importance as a community healthcare hub.

The initiative received overwhelming support from various quarters of the community. Many important personalities and members of the community attended the inauguration ceremony, including Welfare Standing Committee Chairman, P. Harish Babu, Ward Member Rukhiya Teacher, College Principal Riyas AP, and Dr. Navas. Their presence highlighted the significance of such collaborative efforts in fostering community engagement and healthcare awareness.

Speaking at the inauguration, Grama Panchayath President Annamma Valliyamthadathil commended the volunteers for their dedication and expressed gratitude for their invaluable contribution to the community. She emphasized the importance of such initiatives in strengthening community bonds and enhancing public healthcare facilities.

Principal Riyas AP praised the students for their enthusiasm and proactive involvement in the project, noting that such initiatives not only fostered creativity among students but also instilled a sense of social responsibility and leadership.

The long hours spent on the painting project reflected the high level of interest and commitment among the volunteers, showcasing their dedication to making a positive impact in society.

overwhelming response to the initiative underscored its success in bringing together diverse stakeholders for a common cause.

Looking ahead, the college students expressed their eagerness to undertake more such initiatives in different areas of society, demonstrating their readiness to contribute meaningfully to community development.

In conclusion, the painting of Vettathoor Grama Panchayath Ayurveda Dispensary by NSS volunteers from Poopalam Al Jamia Arts and Science College stands as a testament to the power of community collaboration and youthful enthusiasm in creating positive change. It serves as a beacon of hope and inspiration for future initiatives aimed at enhancing community welfare and healthcare services.
