REPORT

ANGANAVADI PAINTING AT MULLIYAKURSSI

In a display of dedication and social responsibility, students from Poopalam Al Jamia Arts and Science College, participating in a NSS camp at PTM AUP Mulliakurssi, undertook the task of painting an Anganwadi in the local area. Guided by their program officer, Salih V., the initiative aimed to beautify and uplift the community space, impacting the lives of children and families who utilize the facility.

The painting project commenced on December 26, 2018, and was successfully completed within a span of two days. This rapid turnaround not only underscored the efficiency of the students but also highlighted their proactive approach towards community service. By transforming the Anganwadi through vibrant colors and creative designs, the students not only aimed to enhance the aesthetic appeal of the building but also aimed to create a more welcoming environment for its young beneficiaries.

Principal Riyas A.P. expressed his heartfelt appreciation for the students' efforts, acknowledging their commitment to social causes and their exemplary teamwork. He emphasized the importance of such initiatives in fostering a sense of civic duty among the youth and encouraged more students to actively participate in similar community-oriented activities in the future.

The NSS camp at PTM AUP Mulliakurssi has been a platform for students not only to engage in educational and cultural activities but also to actively contribute towards the betterment of society. This painting project stands as a testament to their dedication and the positive impact they aspire to create in their surroundings.

In addition to enhancing the physical appearance of the Anganwadi, the project served as a reminder of the power of collective effort and community spirit. It brought together students from diverse backgrounds under a common goal, fostering friendships and a sense of unity that extends beyond the boundaries of the college campus.

The success of the initiative has spurred optimism among the local community, with hopes for continued collaboration between educational institutions and community organizations for the greater good. The students, buoyed by the support and recognition received, look forward to undertaking more such initiatives that contribute positively to society and reflect the values instilled in them through their educational journey.
