REPORT

We are pleased to announce that Aljamia Arts and Science College has made a generous donation of 2319 rupees to the Chungam Palliative Care Society. This contribution is part of our ongoing efforts to support and uplift community services that align with our values of compassion and social responsibility. The Chungam Palliative Care Society is dedicated to providing essential care and support to individuals with serious and life-limiting illnesses. Their work is crucial in offering comfort, medical care, and emotional support to patients and their families during challenging times. In recognition of the significance of their mission, our college has chosen to support their cause through this financial contribution. This donation is a collective effort, reflecting the compassion and dedication of our students, faculty, and staff. We believe that our support will help enhance the quality of care provided by the society and contribute to their ongoing initiatives. We extend our heartfelt thanks to everyone involved in making this donation possible. It is through such acts of generosity that we can make a meaningful impact on our community.
