OBC/MINORITY CELL MEETING ACTION TAKEN REPORT

2021-2022

- The cell reviewed the current scholarship schemes available for OBC and minority students. Various central and state government schemes were discussed in detail, including their eligibility criteria, application procedures, and deadlines.
- It was decided to provide additional guidance to students in understanding the eligibility criteria for these scholarships. A "Helping Hands" initiative was proposed to assist students in completing their scholarship applications. Volunteers from the cell will be available to help students who need assistance with documentation and online application processes.
- The cell decided to conduct a feedback session for students who have previously applied for scholarships to gather insights on challenges faced during the process. Additionally, an awareness session was planned to educate students on how to use the scholarship portal efficiently, with a focus on students from economically weaker sections who are in urgent need of financial aid.

- It was decided to thoroughly analyse the progress of scholarships awarded to OBC and minority students. Data was collected from each department, detailing the number of students who applied, were eligible, and ultimately received scholarships. Initial findings show an increase in the number of applicants, though challenges in documentation and portal navigation persist for some students.
- To better track and evaluate the impact of scholarships, the cell has initiated a department-wise sorting of students who have been awarded scholarships. Each department was asked to provide a list of recipients to ensure accurate record-keeping and analysis. This will help in understanding the distribution of scholarships across various academic programs and departments.
